1. General statement

Section 116 of the Myanmar Companies Law 2017 states:

“(e) Before the notice of the meeting is sent to shareholders, the company must lodge with the Registrar a copy of:

(i) the notice of the meeting; and

(ii) any document relating to the reduction that will accompany the notice of the meeting sent to shareholders.

(f) The Registrar will have 28 days following receipt of the documents referred to in sub-section (e) to determine if the company may release the notice of meeting to shareholders. If the Registrar determines that the notice may be sent, or a determination is not issued within this period, then the company may send the notice of meeting.

(g) In making a determination under sub-section (f) the Registrar may direct the company to clarify or vary any document submitted under sub-section (e) where this is considered reasonably necessary for the protection of shareholders or creditors.

(h) The Registrar may determine that the company must not release of the notice of meeting within the time provided by sub-section (f) if satisfied on reasonable grounds that the requirements of section 116(d) have not been met or for similarly significant cause.”
